

Section 03001 Wednesday 18:30 – 20:00, Wednesday lab 20:00 – 21:30
Section 03002 Monday 18:30 – 20:00, Monday lab 20:00 – 21:30

This course introduces Social Science students to the human body from an anatomical, physiological, and behavioural perspective. Students gain an understanding of the function of cells and how they communicate with each other allowing them to respond to stimuli and maintain health. Emphasis will be on the role of endocrine and nervous regulated physiological mechanisms and their impact on behaviour. The influence of genetic inheritance on the exnc m The3.4<</MC.93IT t Tnc.ourene phy.3 (g)5eoe o6 (nc)l.046 Tw 6 (nc)-d b13.7 (nc)-6 (v)-6.4 (3)-2.7 (o)-11.3 (ur)-2

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

401-1N1DW | 45 hours

No prerequisite

Section 03001 Thursday 18:00 – 21:00

Section 03002 Wednesday 18:00 – 21:00

Section 03003 Monday 18:00-21:00 (on reserve)

Students who have passed an Introduction to Business course under a different course number should check with an Academic Advisor before registering for this course. This course is designed to provide students with an introductory overview of business by exploring the primary business functions and activities performed by companies and small businesses (marketing, accounting, management, leadership, identifying the major influences and trends affecting business decisions (internal and external), and by recognizing the different stakeholders (owners/shareholders, managers, employees, customers, society) that are affected by business. Overall, students will acquire business vocabulary and relate business principles to their daily lives and workplace but will also develop an essential appreciation of the significant role that business plays in society as a whole.

401-A03DW | 45 hours

Prerequisite: Introduction to Business 401N1

Section 03001 Tuesday 18:00 – 21:00

This analysis course presents fundamental elements of Marketing in a Business context. Topics covered include how products are created, prices are determined, products are distributed in stores and other means, products are promoted to consumers and how consumers make purchasing decisions. The topics are contextualised in today's economic, political, demographic, technological and competitive business environments. The course uses cases and situational problems to advance students' analytical abilities.

202-SN1RE| 75 hours

Prerequisite High School Chemistry 504 or 534 or CEGEP Chemistry 202-

COMPUTER SCIENCE

420-BX03 | 45 hours
No prerequisite

Section 03001 Tuesday 18:30 – 21:30

Students

603-101-MQ | 60hours

Prerequisiteplacement- see page 9

Section 03004 Thursday 18:00-22:00

Section 03005 Tuesday 18:00-22:00

Section 03006 Wednesday 18:00-22:00 (on reserve)

This course introduces students to the study of literature at the college level, with special emphasis on vocabulary, study skills, critical

FINE ARTS/ART HISTORY

511-912-DW 45hours
No prerequisite

602-FR~~A~~W| 90hours
Prerequisiteplacement- see page 9

Section 03001 Tues. & Thurs. 18:00 – 21:00

This course is designed for students who have no knowledge of French. It prepares students for Pratique du français langue seconde 3 et 4 (602-FRB) It does not contribute to fulfillment of college graduation requirements in French. Text: Desjardins, Nancy Par icj méthode de français (Niveau A1 CECR 2 Échelle québécoise), éditions MD, Québec 2017, 160 pages; ISBN : 978289146804. $40 Exercise book also available for approx. $18.

s 602-FR~~B~~W| 90hours

602-101-MQ | 45hours
Bloc A
Prerequisiteplacement- see page 9

Section 03001 Monday 18:00-21:00

Ce cours s'adresse aux élèves qui ont une connaissance moyenne du français oral et écrit. Il leur permettra de communiquer en français avec une certaine aisance. À la fin de ce cours, les élèves seront capables d'interpréter et de produire diverses communications orales et écrites. Coût approximatif du matériel: 55$

602-102-MQ | 45hours
Bloc A
Prerequisiteplacement- see page 9

Section 03001 Wednesday 18:00-21:00

Ce cours s'adresse aux élèves qui ont une bonne connaissance du français oral et écrit. Il les mettra en contact avec la littérature francophone, leur permettant ainsi de communiquer en français avec aisance. Coût approximatif du matériel: 55$

602-UF2MQ | 45 hours
Replaces the Bloc B French course
Prerequisite: 602UF1

Section 03001 Tuesday 18:00 – 21:00

330-A01-DW| 45hours

Prerequisite: Introduction to Global History 3301

Section 03001 Monday 18:30 – 21:30

This course explores the rise and fall of empires, which may include examples from Spain, Netherlands, Portugal, France, Great Britain to the United States. To analyze these empires, the course may reflect on historical and eastern empires from Rome to China. Students will analyze the economic, political, and cultural factors that enable empires to expand and maintain control. Through case studies, students will assess the strategic decisions that shaped imperial legacies, identify patterns of imperial governance, and critically examine the consequences of empire building on both the colonizers and the colonized. Emphasis will be placed on synthesizing historical events to construct models of imperial power. Students will create innovative proposals for today's leadership, using historical data to predict potential shifts in global power dynamics. Key skills developed include evaluating imperial strategies, synthesizing historical data, formulating policies based on past empires.

330-A08DW| 45hours

Prerequisite: Introduction to Global History 3301

Section 03001 Thursday 18:30 – 21:30

1c7/P <=4e1NH 18:30

345-BXH-DW 45 hours

Prerequisite 345-101 or 345-103 and 345-102

Section 03001 Wednesday 18:30 – 21:30

Section 03002 Tuesday 18:30 – 21:30

Section 03003 Thursday 18:30-24:30 (on reserve)

